ORDER REVOKING
RESIDENT PRODUCER LICENSE

This matter comes before the South Carolina Department of Insurance (the Department), upon application of David E. Belton, Esquire, Senior Associate General Counsel for the Department, requesting the revocation of Hunter Davis, (Producer) resident producer's license.

After careful review of the evidence presented the Department issues the following decision:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Producer is currently a South Carolina resident producer.

In the State of South Carolina, the producer committed fraud by enrolling Medicare patients into Humana Insurance Company's plan, without their knowledge and consent, by forging the customers' signatures on the applications.

In the State of South Carolina the producer failed to respond to the notice of investigation sent by the Department, after receiving and signing for it by certified mail.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Pursuant to S.C. Code §38-43-130(A)(C)(8)(10) (A): "The director or his designee may place on probation, revoke, or suspend a producer's license after ten days' notice or refuse to issue or reissue a license when it appears that a producer has violated this title or any regulation promulgated by the Department, or has willfully deceived or dealt unjustly with the citizens of this State." (C): "The words 'deceived or dealt unjustly with the citizens of this State' include, but not limited to, action or inaction by the producer as follows:" (8): "using fraudulent, coercive, or dishonest practices, or demonstrating incompetence, untrustworthiness, or financial irresponsibility in the conduct of business in this State or elsewhere." (10): "forging another's name to an application for insurance or to any document related to an insurance transaction." Because Hunter Davis committed fraud by enrolling Medicare patients into Humana Insurance Company's plan, without their knowledge and consent, by forging the customers' signatures on the applications, the Department now moves to revoke his South Carolina's producer license.

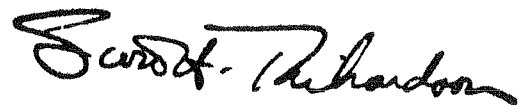

Pursuant to S.C. Code §38-43-245(1): "A licensed insurance producer who, with the intent to injure, defraud, or deceive any insurance company or applicant for insurance, presents or causes to be presented to any insurance company an application for insurance, knowing that the application contains any false or misleading information or omissions concerning any fact or thing material to the underwriting of the insurance for which the application is submitted, is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars, or both." Because Hunter Davis committed fraud by enrolling Medicare patients into Humana Insurance Company's plan, without their knowledge and consent, by forging the customers' signatures on the applications, the Department now moves to revoke his South Carolina's producer license.
